PROPOSAL AWARD PROCESS

The Division of Probation Services of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia will subject all proposals to thorough review based upon completeness, cost-effectiveness, knowledge base of the responsible entity, projected quality of deliverables, and reliability of deliverables. The Director of Probations Services will select two (2) finalists, if supported by the number and quality of the proposed submissions. The two (2) finalists may be asked to produce additional information and/or submit to an interview process. The final selection of a successful proposal is subject to the recommendation of the Director of Probation Services and approval of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia (“Court”). The Director of Probation Services will notify the responsible entity of the successful proposal. The Court will post the results of the award process on its website (www.courtswv.gov) which shall serve as notice concerning the process to all those submitting proposals.

The person and/or entity submitting the successful proposal shall be required to enter into a potentially ongoing contract with the Administrative Office of the Court concerning the terms of engagement for provision of professional services required to timely supply materials and reliable laboratory services (“Project Deliverable”) as described in this RFP. The contract will reference all details concerning payment, quality, and other relevant terms and conditions of the engagement such as insurance coverage requirements. Work on the Project Deliverable shall not commence until the contract has been executed by the Court and entity submitting the successful proposal.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT

The Division of Probation Services of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia seeks proposals for the provision of specimen collection materials and related laboratory services of substance abuse screening and confirmation testing to assist probation officers and other judicial personnel throughout the State of West Virginia in supervising individuals on behalf of the court system.

The Project Deliverable requires the laboratory and/or distributor to provide reliable materials and services, including but not limited to:

- Substance abuse screening devices, including rapid screen multi-panel testing cups minimum and collection devices for urine, sweat, and oral fluid
- Rapid screen testing cups shall at a minimum test for the following controlled substances: EtG, fentanyl, tramadol, amphetamines, methamphetamines, MDMA/Ecstasy, opiates, marijuana, cocaine, benzodiazepines, oxycodone, methadone, and buprenorphine
- Confirmation testing for at least the above substances, as well as the possibility of others (e.g., PCP, K2, barbiturates, or bath salts)
- A description of cut-off levels for testing
- CLIA-certified practices and protocol
- Use of equipment that meets ANSI standards
- Specify method of confirmation testing utilized

- An indication of whether the laboratory is SAMHSA-certified
- Description of timeline for receiving results
- Proper chain of custody tracking and protocol
- Reporting of results and test documentation via secure online database
- Specimen validity testing to include indication or identification of tampering, dilution, or adulteration
- EtG confirmation testing
- Professional and qualified expert courtroom testimony as needed
- Proper observation of West Virginia and federal confidentiality statutes and regulations
- Training and/or training materials for the Court's probation officers and other Court personnel
- Other related substance abuse screening laboratory services if necessary

The finished Project Deliverable is intended to provide substance abuse monitoring and accountability tools for probation officers and their probationers or other supervisees. As such, the testing and equipment must be properly certified, reliable, and accurate as the results of this testing may bear on the life and liberty rights of individuals involved in the criminal justice system or other court proceedings in the State of West Virginia. Moreover, the responsible party should anticipate a possible volume of 50,000 confirmations and potentially 80,000 rapid screen testing cups annually.

COMPENSATION AWARD DETAILS

The Project Deliverable is funded through the Court's budget as well as the fiscal account of local treatment courts or applicable state or federal grant monies. The responsible entity shall invoice the Administrative Office of the Court, or the local treatment court designee as applicable, on a monthly basis as services are rendered. These invoices shall be subject to review and analyses, after which time the Court will request that the West Virginia State Auditor issue payment. In the event the Division of Probation Services does not consider the Project Deliverable to meet the standards of the RFP and contract, the resolution processes detailed in the contract shall apply.

PROJECT COMPLETION DEADLINE AND DELIVERABLE DUE DATES

The Project Commencement Date is immediately upon award and execution of requisite contract.

The Project Completion Date shall be subject to the terms of the requisite contract. This project will entail a contract for ongoing services to expire at the close of the fiscal year at midnight on June 30, 2021, with the option to renew for the following fiscal year(s) on a yearly basis.

PROPOSAL COMPONENTS AND PROJECT DELIVERABLE REQUIREMENTS

All proposals submitted in response to this RFP must include all of the following components in order for the Director of Probation Services to consider the submission complete:
